TWO HOME-COMINGS

CROWDS AT HARMONY AND WORKMAN'S CHAPEL YESTERDAY

PATRIOTIC PROGRAMS

Ewing Herbert of St. Joseph Spoke at Harmony—Crowd at Workman's Chapel Hears Chas. McCaffrey

Perfect weather, good roads and interesting programs attracted big crowds to Home-Coming events yesterday at Harmony and at Workman's Chapel. At the former the crowd was estimated at over 3,000, while at Workman's Chapel considerably over 1,000 persons were gathered.

The people of Harmony community began coming early, the day's program beginning with Sunday school and preaching services in the morning, the sermon being by Dr. W. H. Betts of Iowa. As the dinner hour drew near the crowds increased and when the long tables in the grove were spread with piles of good things to eat more than 2,500 heard Rev. C. R. Green return thanks. The menu for the spread conformed to the regulations of the food administration as regarded meats, sweets and fats, but notwithstanding there were scores of delicious dishes of salads, fish, mutton, cakes, pies and other things.

After the dinner the crowd was further augmented by hundreds who came to hear the singing and speaking. Four hundred and ninety automobiles were parked inside the grounds, with another hundred or so, not counting buggies and other vehicles, parked without in the roads adjoining.

The principal address of the afternoon was by Ewing Herbert of St. Joseph, owner and editor of the Stock Yards Journal. In a splendid talk of forty-five minutes he held the attention of the big crowd throughout. The speaker discussed some of the problems of the war and said that one of the valuable lessons it had brought was the obligation to service. Mr. Herbert declared that as civilians we should take a lesson from army discipline and learn to obey orders when Liberty Loan campaigns were on and when Red Cross funds were needed and other forms of war work demanded.

Mr. Herbert pointed out that it was an honor to be selected to have a part in this greatest war as a soldier or sailor, as only the fittest and cleanest men were chosen, and that we at home were failing in our duty if we neglected to furnish them with every means to prosecute the struggle. Mr. Herbert urged that business and professional men go into the fields this summer, if emergency demanded, and help put by the wheat and other crops. Mr. Herbert was introduced by Geo. Robb Ellison.

Besides splendid singing by Harmony choir, accompanied by the orchestra, other much appreciated numbers were by the White Cloud male quartette, Mrs. Fred P. Robinson of Maryville, a quartette composed of Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Mrs. L. J. Schnabel, H. J. Becker and W. E. Goforth. A patriotic reading by Miss Dora Cox of Maitland was heartily applauded. A service flag on which were three stars was dedicated.

At Workman's Chapel.

Nineteen years ago yesterday Workman's Chapel church was dedicated and the anniversary yesterday found a large crowd there to partake of a bountiful spread and to hear a patriotic address by Chas. McCaffrey. The affair was informal and from early morning until late in the afternoon the people of the community and their friends and guests visited with each other, renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. Following a brief service in the forenoon the balance of the day was devoted to the big dinner, the address of the speaker and gatherings in the grove.

In his address Mr. McCaffrey spoke of the need for keeping the home fires burning and making ample provision for the men who had gone to the front. A splendid tribute was paid to the Red Cross ladies who are working so faithfully in this and other counties in behalf of suffering men and women and children in far away lands and of the work of those who are doing their part in the Y. M. C. A. and other war activities.

Workman's Chapel enjoys the distinction of being the only church in Nodaway county that is open to the people of very faith and creed and may be used for religious services by Protestant and Catholic, Jew or Gentile, the only stipulation being that no collection be taken at any service.

SCOUTS HUNTWALNUT TIMBER

Members of Both Local Troops Spend Saturday On All-night Hike and Camp—328 Trees Measured

Maryville Boy Scouts are searching the county for walnut timber to be used in the manufacture of airplanes and gunstocks, the survey being made at the request of the government. Saturday afternoon Scouts of Troop 2, accompanied by Scoutmaster Marve Peery, went out on White Cloud for an all-night camp and spent the afternoon hunting walnut trees. They camped on the U. S. Wright farm and measured walnut trees on the Wright, Douglass, Bell and Powell farms. Three hundred and twenty-eight trees were measured and will be reported to the government forestry department. Scouts from Troop 1 have measured walnut trees on the Robinson and Atherton farms north of town.

Some fifteen members of Troop 1 also enjoyed an all-night hike and camp Saturday night out near the Lee bridge on the One Hundred and Two river, where they were given instruction in scoutcraft, the building of leantos and observation. Fishing and swimming was also enjoyed.

AGRICULTURE PLAN GROWS

New Schools Will Be Added to Number Already Using the Vitalized Idea —P. G. Holden to Instruct

County Superintendent Bert Cooper received word today that P. G. Holden, corn expert, and who is also responsible for vitalized agriculture being introduced into the rural schools of the state, would again hold a conference in Maryville this summer when the new plan will be given further demonstration for the benefit of county superintendents and teachers in this and adjoining counties. The dates announced are July 29 to August 2.

Last year six schools took up vitalized agriculture and so successful was the plan that the number will be increased this fall to some fifteen or twenty, it is expected. Teachers in the schools selected will be called to meet here on the dates named to confer with Mr. Holden and his assistants.

REV. MILLER PREACHES TO MEN OF REMOUNT DETACHMENT

TELLS OF WORK AT CAMP

One Soldier's Enthusiasm for Church Work Led to His Getting Sent to the Guardhouse

The following letter from C. Emerson Miller, pastor of the Christian church, was read at Sunday school yesterday morning:

"Lawton, Okla., June 14.

"Dear Superintendent and Sunday school—Since my last letter I have been busy doing just plain, hard pastoral work, calling on the boys who sign up the 'war roll,' and if they are members, urging them to identify themselves with the church at Lawton; if they are not members, but giving as their preference the Christian church, trying to get them to complete their obedience and unite with the church. It is a big day's work to find and talk with five or six men, they are so scattered. You may find the barracks and then not locate your man. He may be in the guardhouse, or on a detail or away in town. Yesterday I found one of our boys in the guardhouse. He is a fine young fellow. He was too interested in the church work and C. E. work and he got into the habit of coming to town without leave. The provost guard arrested him Sunday evening in town and so he has to 'pay the piper' now.

"It is a common sight to see a batch of prisoners doing rough, dirty work and an armed guard bossing the job. I came across one fellow hitched up to a kind of a horse sweeper and he was having a hard time of it. I said to the officer of the day, Lieut. Miller (a son of a Methodist preacher), 'Do you really think that treatment of that kind accomplishes anything; is not that idea of punishment obsolete?' He said: 'Parson, it is not the idea of punishment; it's part of a man's degradation; it's getting down to the husks.' Evidently the idea is to humiliate a man as much as possible so he will, from the remembrance of the past humiliation, refrain from doing the wrong thing again. There are many ridiculous things about army discipline, some of which I shall tell you when I get back.

"Last Sunday morning I preached to the church at Lawton. Had a fairly good crowd, but it just made me want to be with my own folks in Maryville. At night I preached to the boys of the 'remount detachment.' These fellows are a hard bunch—mule skinners, ex-cow punchers, misfits from other branches of the service—the hopeless and the careless—so entirely different from the boys of the artillery or the aviation branch of the service. It took me some time to get their attention and I flatter myself that I held them without any of 'Billy' Sunday's methods, although at times I felt that some of Billy's fervid language would have done them more good, or at least made them feel more at home. Only got one to sign up the 'war roll.' There are some fine fellows at 'remount'. They are mostly non-coms. The top sergeant is a member of our church, and the sergeant major, whom I met after the service, is a Baptist and a clean-cut fellow. I was glad of the experience at 'remount.' For such fellows the Master died, and they need the message of hope and comfort more than many others.

"Tuesday night I was back at the aviation Y. M. C. A. for my third appearance. I found there more of our boys, one from Eureka, Calif., and one from Emporia, Kans. After the service I had a half hour talk with Lieut. Wolfe, a Lutheran, and I explained to him the way of the Lord more perfectly. He is from Pennsylvania, and had never heard of our people.

"I met the Jewish camp pastor, a fine, bright chap, but the mystery to me is, where did he get his name? Whoever heard of a Jew being named McGee? Thursday we all went for a picnic to Medicine Park, about fifteen miles out of Lawton. Met very many nice people. Brother Waggoner, the former pastor of Lawton church, was there and we had a big time, especially trying to dodge the shell holes on the way home.

"Sunday I visit two more of the 'Yg.' In the morning I preach at '57' and in the evening at '59.' At '59', I am told, I will find a worse bunch than at 'remount.' If that is so they will need my message. I feel that my work is not accomplishing very much, consequently I am coming home for Sunday, June 23, and I expect to see a big attendance that Sunday. Let me congratulate you on the splendid showing you made for Children's Day; it was great. I am proud of you and happy to know that you can always be depended on to do your part. God bless you all.

"It is excessively hot. One of the boys of the 31st Balloon Squadron told me that the temperature on Tuesday was 102—up in the balloon at an elevation of 1,800 feet. 'Some hot!'

"Sincerely, your pastor,

"C. EMERSON MILLER."

A HOME BOY'S RISE

FRANK W. BUHLER, MOTION PICTURE EXPERT, GETS BIG JOB

DIRECTS BIG SYNDICATE

Is Made Managing Director of Most Important Group of Moving Picture Theatres In America

Some fifteen years ago there stopped over in Maryville a travelling theatrical organization of the average type. When they came to leave a likely looking young fellow applied to the manager to be taken along as extra man. He said he had had some amateur experience, was willing to learn and had made up his mind that he was going to the top of the ladder. The manager was impressed with his appearance and his story. He told him to get his duds ready and join the company. And Frank W. Buhler had started on the road to success.

Mr. Buhler has just been appointed managing director of all the amusement enterprises under the direction and control of the Stanley Company, one of the largest syndicates in the east operating motion picture and amusement houses. Mr. Buhler's home is in Philadelphia. His mother, Mrs. Mary Buhler, and a brother, Charles Buhler, are residents of Maryville.

In commenting on his appointment the Philadelphia Sunday Transcript says: "In his new position as managing director of one of the largest concerns in the United States, Mr. Buhler arrives in his rightful position among the really 'big' men of the film world and the Stanley Company and the public are to be congratulated upon his advancement.'

The Philadelphia Inquirer, in comment on Mr. Buhler's appointment, says:

"There are but few men besides himself possessed of the very necessary requisite to handle the work of this corporation, which includes in its lists many theatres in this city, New York, Atlantic City and other cities and towns, in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other states. That Mr. Buhler is magnificently equipped mentally to undertake the task is conceded by all who know him. In popular parlance Mr. Buhler is 'on the job' early and late, working, planning, conceiving those things that are best for the public and for those who work under his direction. He is one of the best critics, or rather judges, of pictures the industry knows. Whether Mr. Buhler possess uncanny second sight in this respect or not is a matter of conjecture. The fact is that when he condemns a picture and some one else shows it, it has been condemned by the public, who refuse to pay their money at the box office.

"While these are but a few of the special gifts possessed by the new managing director, his executive ability is prodigious and this is combined with a thorough knowledge of the theatrical amusement business from every angle, whether it be from the viewpoint of the box office or from that of the public who pay their money to see various entertainments, especially motion pictures."

LACK CIVIC SPIRIT

MARYVILLE SHOULD ADOPT CALIFORNIA IDEAS, SAYS DR. COX

WHAT HE FOUND ON TRIP

A Determination to Conquer the Desert Has Shown Man to be the Miracle Worker

The spirit of the people of California that has made the desert "blossom like a rose," was the subject of a sermonette by Dr. Gilbert S. Cox at the First M. E. church last night and in which the speaker took occasion to make several "direct hits" at the lack of civic enterprise of the people of Maryville. "If we had the same spirit of those people of California, that not only takes pride in the things they have, but their determination to have even better things, even with great obstacles to overcome, Maryville and Nodaway county might be a wonder place, for our natural advantages are much greater than theirs," Dr. Cox declared.

Dr. Cox recently returned from the Golden Gate state where he has been engaged for the past month in a college endowment fund campaign for the University of California at Los Angeles, where he traveled over a wide section and was enabled to gather information at first hand in many towns.

Dr. Cox pointed out that civic enterprise of the people there, who had taken a desert waste and transformed it into a land of fruit and flowers, making their towns and cities public show places that are their chiefest pride and asset, offered a lesson in determination that might well be adopted. Their enthusiasm, he said, for the advantages their communities offered, and the pride they took in showing and explaining to the stranger the wonderful things they have done and the things they are planning for the future are so impressive that the visitor comes away with the determination to go and do likewise.

"I do not know who is responsible for the condition of some of our vacant lots and streets," said Dr. Cox, "but I am sure that conditions such as exist here would not be premitted for a day in any of the California towns that I visited."

"With nothing but a dreary desert, with little else but sand a nd sage brush and cactus, man has been the miracle worker out there on the Pacific coast, and with the water God has given them they have been able to transform it into places of beauty. God's spirit if permitted to flow into the wasted and sinful lives, will accomplish the same result."

Dr. Cox announced that during the summer the evening services would be shortened and would be made interesting by a discussion of vital subjects and special music.

FOOD DEALERS MEET

COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR CALLS CONFERENCE FOR THURSDAY

IMPORTANTS MATTERS

State Administrator Announces a Further Limitation On Sugar Sales Effective After June 15

County Food Administrator F. P. Robinson announced a meeting of food dealers of the city and county will be held next Thursday afternoon at the court house, when problems in connection with regard to food rules will be discussed. Mr. Robinson urges attendance of all food dealers, as the important matters will be taken up.

The following announcement from state food administrator, F. B. Mumford, placing a further limitation on sugar sales is also of interest to both dealer and consumer:

"To all retail grocers:

Further Limitations on Sugar Sales.

The shortage of sugar due primarily to lack of shipping facilities and to recent losses from submarine attacks on the Atlantic Coast, makes it necessary to still further limit quantity retail sales of sugar.

From and after June 15, you will therefore limit each sale of sugar (except for canning and preserving) as follows:

1. To town or city consumers not more than 2 pounds at a time.

2. To rural consumers not more than 5 pounds at a time.

Note this cancels the five and ten pound rule now in force.

No change in rules governing sales for canning and preserving. No change has been made in the amount which can be sold to consumers on certificate for canning and preserving. On proper certificate for canning and preserving you may continue to sell 25 pounds of sugar at a time."

AUSTRIAN BLOWS ARE COUNTERED

THE ITALIANS ARE GIVING BLOW FOR BLOW — VIOLENT FIGHTING CONTINUES

FIERCE STRUGGLE ON PIAVE FOR POSITION

On the French Front Absolute Calm Is Reported, With the Allies Having Bettered Their Positions In Some Local Operations

Rome, June 17. — Violent fighting continued along the entire battle front in northern Italy, with the Italians paying blow for blow and the Austrians everywhere being held, the war office announced today. The Austrians have kept up their attack in great force along the Piave river, where they are struggling to establish bridgehead positions on the right bank of the stream, with the Italians savagely counter attacking all along the line. The enemy has reacted violently against the Italians and has added counter offensives on the Asiago plateau and in the Grappa sector, the war office reports said.

Paris, June 17.—Absolute calm was reported from the French front today.

London, June 17.—"We carried out a successful raid east of Arras during the night, capturing a few prisoners," the British war office reported today.

Italian Front, June 17. — British fighting with the Italians in the southwestern theatre captured seven hundred Austrian Germans. Losses inflicted by the British since the Austrian offensive began have been six times as heavy as the British armies have sustained themselves.

With French Army, June 17.—Tanks paved the way for a French victory in Mery Bellow Wood sector of the Montdidier-Oise front. The tanks advanced ahead of the infantry on a frontal barrage and while the artillery was concentrated on the flank positions. As these monstrous tanks advanced in formation through Mery and beyond, deadly havoc wrought by the guns could be seen. Heaps of dead could be seen everywhere. The tanks achieved their objective, wiping out a nest of machine guns powerful enough to stop infantry attacks.

Paris, June 17.—Between Oise and Aisne the French bettered their positions north and northwest of Hautebray's this morning by means of local operations, the war office reported.

SOME WAR BORN PHILOSOPHY.

In the fierce heat of war the French soldiers have developed a war-time philosophy. Here it is reduced to epigrammatic form:

"You have two alternatives. Either you are mobilized or you are not. If not, you have nothing to worry about.

"If you are, you have two alternatives: Either you are in camp or at the front. If you are in camp you have nothing to worry about.

"If you are at the front you have two alternatives: Either you are in reserve or you are on the fighting line. If you are in reserve, you have nothing to worry about.

"If you are on the fighting line, you have two alternatives. Either you scrap or you don't. If you don't you have nothing to worry about.

"If you do, you have two alternatives: Either you get slightly hurt or you get badly hurt. If slightly, you have nothing to worry about.

"If badly, you have two alternatives: Either you recover or you don't. If you recover, you have nothing to worry about. If you don't and have followed my advice clear through, you have done with worry forever."

It must be admitted that this is fatalistic in its character. It is found reduced to a single sentence current in the language: "Don't worry about what you can't help."

If we could only compose our minds always to the ideas embodied in the quotation above, which has been called the "Litany of the Trenches," we would save ourselves from much needless anxiety.

There is an old saying: "It is worry, not work, that kills." And worry has its foundation and cause in the mind. It is the apprehension of the blow that hurts far more than the blow itself.

Men and nations are not broken down by what they suffer so much as what they fear or expect to suffer.

Another war-time saying which emphasizes the same trench philosophy was stated by Major Beith in a lecture. He spoke of the fear of shells experienced by the new soldier at the front and quoted the veteran, who said: "Don't worry; you never hear the one that gets you."

Never has money been made to yield such big returns in easing pain, restoring happiness and increasing usefulness for our fellow human beings as the Red Cross dollar of the first war fund.

The object of the Red Cross is to care for our soldiers and sailors, to shorten the war, to lay the foundation for an enduring peace.

Under the banner of the Red Cross, political, social and religious lines have been eliminated. The best impulses of the nation have been welded together in the mightiest organization for service that the world has ever seen.

The Penelope auxiliary will have a special meeting Wednesday at the work rooms to finish the work uncompleted last week.

White Cloud auxiliary reports completed and sent in: 40 No. 3 absorbent pads and 500 2x2 wipes.

Safety in Industries.

Industrial accidents cost this country 35,000 human lives and many millions of dollars annually, according to the Arizona State Safety News. "In addition, dismemberments and other serious injuries total about 350,000 yearly, while the annual number of minor accidents, causing loss of time, exceeds 2,000,000. The putting forward of Safety is effected by well-known methods: First, you must have an organization that will handle the proposition; second, you have to put your plant and equipment into a proper and safe condition; third, you have to educate people as to the importance of their own responsibility to the safety cause. To keep the ball rolling is the problem which confronts all Safety organizations."

Punish the Slackers Who Gain Release Through Crime

Dishonorable discharges from the army, which many officers believe have been seized upon by slackers as the vehicle of escape from military service, will no longer provide such opportunity, under an order issued by Secretary Baker. For several weeks the army has been losing men at the rate of 100 to 150 a day. They chose to commit offenses which led to their dishonorable discharge. In the future, Secretary Baker ordered, such men will get terms of imprisonment with their discharges, and whenever possible some other form of sentence will be used.

DEATH WINS A DIVORCE CASE

Hugh Kelly, Sent to State Asylum by County Court, Dies From Queer Malady

A kind providence has decreed that one case on the docket of Judge John M. Dawson in the circuit court will be heard by the higher tribunal, the death Saturday night at the state asylum in St. Joseph of Hugh Kelly having obliged the court clerk to mark from the records the action for divorce recently brought by his wife. The unfortunate man, a physical wreck, and subject to a queer malady, died within two weeks after the county court had adjudged him of unsound mind and ordered that he be sent to and at times attacked his wife. Three ment.

Hugh Kelly had lived in Maryville with his family for a number of years. He was subject to spells of violence following which he became deathly sick and at times attacked hi wife. Three weeks ago he was taken into custody following a disturbance at his home and was sentenced to work on the streets. After a day or two the dread disease, or whatever it was, seized him and it was with difficulty that men at the station were able to quiet him. An examination of his mental condition revealed his physical and mental weakness and he was ordered sent to St. Joseph for treatment.

The remains were received here today and were buried in Oak Hill cemetery, Dr. Gilbert S. Cox performing the funeral rites. Besides his widow there survive him four children, Wilbur, Elmer, Greta and Carl.

You Can't Rub It Away; Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you will never succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain.

You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier and scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

PROSPERITY BUILT ON VICE

Portuguese City of Macao Has Long Been Known as the Monte Carlo of the Orient.

Macao is said to be the most prosperous bit of Portuguese territory in the world. It is the famous "Monte Carlo of the Orient," where gambling and a considerable opium traffic have their headquarters. Both these vices are ones to which the Chinese are particularly addicted, and Macao has become a great resort for the wealthier Chinese natives.

It lies on a sandy peninsula, half way on the trip between Hongkong and Canton. The Portuguese acquired it in the olden time when they were the most daring explorers and traders in the world. Their descendants live there still, but they have mingled and intermarried with the Chinese until what amounts to a new race has been produced in the native-born Portuguese colony in Macao.

Macao is a prosperous city, as most capitals of the god of chance are wont to be. Various gambling games are played, but the favorite is fan-tan, over which the Chinaman can develop an apparently disproportionate amount of excitement. In fan-tan a number of coins or counters are hidden under a bowl, and the players bet on how many will be left when the coins have been counted off in fours. Simplicity can go no farther, but it is possible to lose as much money over this primitive form of gambling as over the most complicated variety known to the West.

Chinese are the greatest gamblers in the world. They will bet on anything from the weather to the weight of a horse, whether they can afford to lose or not. A wealthy Chinese merchant will win and lose fortunes with an air of philosophic nonchalance, while the poorest coolies will drop a week's pay in ten minutes without permitting the impassive gravity of his countenance to be marred by anything more than a painted frown.

Blind to Joy.

Life is always worth living, if one have responsive sensibilities. But we of the highly educated classes (so called) have most of us got far, far away from nature. We are trained to seek the choice, the rare, the exquisite exclusively, and to overlook the common. We are stuffed with abstract conceptions and glib with verbalities and verbosities; and in the culture of these higher functions the peculiar sources of joy connected with our simpler functions often dry up, and we grow stone blind and insensible to life's more elementary and general goods and joys.—William James.

Big St. Louis Industry Turns Plant Over to Wage Earners—Actions Establishes a Precedent

St. Louis, June 17.—An agreement which is characterized by officials and employes as "more advantageous to its members than any other ever negotiated by an old-time labor union," has been entered into by the Union Electric Light and Power Company and its workers, represented by the Employes Mutual Benefit Association. The pact, signed by officials of the company and association and ratified by all members of the association, is in full effect.

This agreement virtually gives control of the Union Electric—and affiliated companies—to the employes, being the first agreement of its type made in the United States between employes and employer.

It will precipitate a revolution in industrial circles, it is predicted.

Full right to determine salaries to be paid them, hours they are to work and conditions under which the labor is to be done is given employes.

A general increase in salaries will come at once.

An eight-hour day will be established for every employe just as soon as additional employes can be obtained and the labor shortage situation cleared. A majority already have the eight-hour day.

Your Public Utilities Cannot Meet Increasing Coal Costs

"The Price of Service Must Meet Its Cost

The power that lights your homes, pumps your water, runs the street cars, turns the motors in factories, is simply coal turned into electrical energy. The cost of coal is the largest item in the expense of supplying electrical service for any purpose. The cost of fuel in like manner affects the manufacture of gas.

Since the world war coal and oil has doubled, trebled, and in some places quadrupled in price. Everything in the manufacture of which fuel enters has increased. The wages of the men who dig the coal have increased several times.

But the utilities who buy coal and oil to furnish electricity and gas have been forced to continue at the rates fixed before the war with the result that selling a service at less than cost is seriously impairing their power to exist.

The increase in the cost of fuel is today costing the utilities of Missouri from 70 to 110 per cent more than in normal years, and the price received for the product of this fuel is the same as in previous years.

It does not require a mathematician nor an expert accountant to see where this will lead if it continues. Some measure of relief is necessary if public utilities are to continue to furnish service. It is neither practicable nor just to ask that a service be furnished at a price less than it costs to produce.

The Public Service Commission is being asked to investigate each individual case thoroughly and to take some steps in line with the request of President Wilson to avert what he regards as a serious national loss if the ability of these companies to fulfill their service obligations is not maintained.
